Current Situation at Tingo Maria

Not surprisingly, DEA Intelligence reports indicate that traffickers are retuning to Tingo Maria, in the wake of Green Sea Operation now that only regular police remain in the area. Elaboration of coca paste by traffickers is again underway. Since ENACO suspended the purchase of coca in Tingo Maria shortly after Green Sea II and does not intend to reopen its office in that area, farmers have no alternative but to sell to the trafficker.

Although the Guardia Civil has approved the creation of the Mobile Rural Patrol to be assigned at Tingo Maria to specifically work on coca control action, it will take at least 2 months to prepare adequate quarters for permanent assignment of the 65-70 personnel. In the meantime, the Mission is meeting with the GOP in an effort to have a token force assigned to Tingo Maria to provide security to Agricultural Ministry personnel until the Rural Police unit is established.

On June 19, some coca producers in the Tingo Maria region (approx. 1200 families), whose livelihood depends on the legal production of coca, requested the Agricultural Ministry to reopen the ENACO office in that area.

Meanwhile, Nils Ericsson, Minister of Agriculture designated in the Belaunde government, stated in a press conference that he will seek to reduce coca production to a minimum. He noted the danger of drug abuse among Peruvian youth and concluded that the new administration will approach this problem on a priority basis.

During the reporting period the NCU completed draft Prow-Ags for the Executive Office for Narcotics, Attorney General for Narcotics, Customs, and ENACO and sent them to INM for review. Presently the NCU is working on draft Prow-Ags for Education, UNAS, GC and PIP. An evaluation was also made of the Customs project as called for in the 1979 Agreement. Copy included as attachment 1 to this report.

PIP

Due largely to the persistent efforts of the DINTID Director, General Llanos, the GOP issued Supreme Decree No. 006-80-IN on May 2, 1980 that assigns the DINTID 30% of all money confiscated by the PIP in narcotics trafficking arrests. General Llanos has requested S/.250'000,000 ($857,000 approx.) of these funds for the immediate purchase of a buildin, and furniture in the Jesus Maria area of Metropolitan Lima to meet the long standing need of the DINTID for adequate office space.

In June, General Llanos attended the Annual Interpol Congress in Paris; one of the most significant agreements was the transfer of the Latin American Interpol Headquarters from Caracas to Lima.

Training

The PIP Narcotics instructors, in close coordination with the DINTID, completed their training plan and conducted the first advanced narcotics course June 16-20. This training was given to 17 PIP officers in charge of narcotics units in key interior departments. The 28 hours of training was designed to upgrade knowledge of narcotics enforcement and to improve administrative capabilities in the management of narcotics units.

Specifically the training was designed to:

-Plan, organize and carry out sophisticated narcotics investigation activities.

-Improve the use of the central criminal investigation laboratory in Lima.

-Apply effectively the narcotics law (D.L. #22095) in accordance with other judicial procedures in effect.

-Improve coordination of DINTID narcotics activities with the judiciary.

PIP Narcotics instructors presented their training plans for the remainder of the calendar year as follows:

-Interior department chiefs of Narcotics Sections (15) participants June 16-20;

-XIX Narcotics course at Huanuco for 31 PIP officers July 7 - 21;

Instead of Quillabamba, Huanta, Chota and Huancabamba, the radios will be placed at Trujillo, Chiclayo, Piura and Cajamarca. Amendment will be made to the Prow-Ag and copy pouched to INM.

The PIP Communications Division will carry out the follow-up inspections of equipment provided under the first project agreement at the following locations:

Detector Dog Program

CC Veterinarians concluded that the illness that affected most of the detector dogs and caused the death of three was due to poisoning by raticain (a rat poison); it is not known if poison was deliberate or accidental. The 21 surviving detector dogs have been receiving medication and vitamins and slowly recuperating. The third detector dog course that was to provide 6 dogs for Cuzco and Iquitos, was suspended until the dogs fully recuperate. The detector dogs trained in course #2 are also on the sick list and will be sent to Huancayo and Iquitos upon release from veterinarian care. The four CC officers that participated in the US Customs Detector Dog Handlers' Course #14 have returned. The CC Detector Dog School is presently selecting six candidates to attend the US Customs Detector Dog Course #15 from August 25 thru November 14, 1980. Four detector dogs donated to the CC Detector Dog Program by US Customs arrived at Lima on June 26/27, in excellent condition. These dogs were trained by the four CC participants attending US Customs Course #14 and the guides and dogs will remain together in Peru. Very good local publicity was provided.

Training

[redacted] The GC Narcotics Section has given an intensive narcotics course to a special group of GC officers who will give specially designed narcotics orientation talks to high schools throughout the country. This program, totally financed by the G&P, was carefully reviewed and approved for inclusion into the Education's programs for drug abuse prevention.

Lectures have begun in Metropolitan Lima and will be continued in Arequipa in July.

Arequipa GC will soon receive 15 vehicles purchased by the G&P; 5 of these vehicles will be assigned exclusively to drug prevention activities in that city.

In the past several months the GC police men have also successfully participated in narcotics undercover operations. These have resulted in the arrest of drug dealers selling to young users.

Communications

During the reporting period, the GC Coordinator, traveled to the airport of Mariscal in order to obtain the release of batteries and generators that were mistakenly sent there by the US seller (instead of to the main airport of Callao).

CUSTOMS: Customs Police Patrol and Interdiction (CPPI)

During the reporting period the Customs (CPPI) officials conducted the required evaluation of the FY 1979 project. Copy of this evaluation is included as attachment #1. As a result of the evaluation, the CPPI was able to obtain space at the Customs headquarters at the seaport of Callao to establish the CPPI training center and the narcotics intelligence section. Instructors have been appointed and have started working on the first lesson plans and other related training materials required for the basic narcotics courses. At the same time the training center is being painted and refurbished to provide narcotics training for to up to 40 persons at a time. Also as a result of the evaluation, the CPPI Director immediately appointed a working level CPPI officer to the position of project coordinator.

On June 11-13, Narcotics Officer Gurman and the Director of the Customs Police traveled to Tacna to inspect the Customs offices and to visit the border station at Santa Rosa. Briefings were given by the Chief of Customs at Tacna and the Officer in Charge at Santa Rosa. The Director reviewed the objectives of the project agreement and stressed the importance of narcotics training and a more dedicated effort to interdict drugs going into Chile. An inspection was made of the two stations to determine basic needs for more effective narcotics control efforts.

Since signing the FY 1979 Agreement the CPPI has shown a notable increase in interdiction of drug traffickers, especially at the seaport of Callao, the international airports at Lima and Iquitos, and at various checkpoints along the borders of Ecuador and Brazil. We do not have the statistics for the month of June but listed below is the following information:
